

The Unknown

James T. Lochridge, Jr.

James T. Lochridge, Jr.

$\text{♩} = 80$

I wake up each morn-ing to I don't know the fu - ture, but If you will be hon - est. you

7

face a new day. I know that my Fa - ther has a great plan in I know who does. And I know my Fa - ther sho-wers me with His know you're like me. You don't know the fu - ture and you long to be place. And if I but fol-low His will and o - bey, the love. So e - ven as I take each step down life's road, the free of guilt and con - fu-sion; of shame and dis - grace. Well

12

17

(8) un - known will be - come known and I'll be blessed by His grace.
un - known will be - come known and He'll help car - ry my load.
friend just let me tell you that you are in the right place.

22

(8) I know my Fa - ther and He knows my name. He knows all a - Ne - ver a mo - ment that He's not with me to guide me and God of - fers free - dom from your debt of sin; for - give - ness and

27

(8) bout me, my sin and my shame. And though my fut - ure is un - help me, the path - way to see. And as I walk by faith o - clean - sing, a new life in Him. And as you walk by faith o -

31

(8) known to me, I can trust His gui - ding hand, be - cause I know that He be - dient - ly, I know He will hold my hand, be - cause I know that He be - dient - ly, I know He will hold your hand, be - cause I know that He

35

(third time to Coda)

1.

loves me and He has a plan.
loves me and He knows His plan.
loves you and He knows His plan

(third time to Coda)

1.

44

2.

$\text{♩} = 70$
Coda

$\text{♩} = 60$

God knows the un-known and He will hold our hand!

2.

Coda